the introduction of the "coronavirus epidemic" in China is very well timed...!

vaccinations are a BILLION dollar business... no need to find customers... the corrupt "governments" of all nations can simply add it to each person's tax bill and everyone must be shot with poison--and vaccines INCUBATE disease, so the doctors will have steady business a decade or two down the road, not to mention the immediate business with the small % of people whom it affects immediately, often killing or crippling for life.

there's a bunch here... scroll through and familiarize yourself with the headlines at least.

When are the people going to stop being so trusting of the pharma-criminals?

Forced vaccinations now can be legally stopped-no quality control for 32 years

Wide ramifications for Australia

Case 1:18-cv-03215-JMF Document 18 Filed 07/09/18

Vaccine injury lawyer Robert F. Kennedy Jr., & Del Bigtree, producer of the suppressed anti-vaccine documentary, Vaxxed and the Informed Consent Action Network (ICAN) are credited with this victory. They demanded the relevant government documents proving that all federally approved vaccines had been tested for quality over the past 32 years — and there were none.

Here are the huge legal and practical implications in this legal victory for the American people:

A recent US court case revealed there has been no quality control over vaccines manufactured by big-pharma for at least 32 years. Autism rates are expected to drop dramatically now that parents can stop the poison being injected into their kids

- o This means that the US Department of Health and Human Services and all vaccine makers have been lying to the American people for over 30 years about the effectiveness and safety of vaccines; this may ultimately mean that continuing the existence — at least in their current form — of five US “healthcare” agencies are now in doubt: the CDC, the FDA, the IOM, the NIH and the “Health” part of DHHS itself; this may also threaten the existence of state medical boards and exclusive medical guilds like the AMA;
- o This means that vaccine makers have been fraudulently exempt from what all other pharmaceutical drug makers have been forced to do concerning biannual recertification for quality and effectiveness — meaning that that their vaccines have never been tested for quality and have had no proven safety or effectiveness for over 30 years;

- o This case can now be legally cited by all parents fraudulently mandated by any government/organizational regulation/requirements that they must vaccinate their children for school or any other activity to stop the forced vaccination of their children;
- o This case can now be legally cited by all employees being mandated by their employers to be vaccinated in order to retain their jobs;
- o This case can now be legally cited by all those who seek compensation for vaccine injury, making it likely that the pharmaceutical vaccine industry can in the near future be legally bankrupted out of existence, like Bayer-Monsanto after the landmark legal victory won by the dying landscaper in San Francisco several weeks ago, as well as their stock value plummeting precipitously;
- o The future of allopathic medicine in its current form is now in doubt, as well as that of the global pharmaceutical cartel, since almost all of the drugs allopathic practitioners prescribe come from pharmaceutical corporations which have also committed vaccine fraud and injury;
- o The existence of the deep-state corporate mainstream news media will now also be further endangered, since 70% of their income stream comes from the global pharmaceutical cartel, which in America has been responsible for 750,000-1 million human sacrifices per year for at least the past half century;
- o Autism rates will now likely plummet, freeing the American people from another deep state-engineered debility, and providing further evidence of mass vaccination-caused autism;
- o All government officials who have passed laws legalizing vaccine fraud at the state, national, or international level, or otherwise aided and abetted this vaccine fraud can now be charged with vaccine fraud, criminal malfeasance and in some cases, war crimes under the Nuremberg Code.

This letter from Dawn Bell, an American health professional, warns that vaccines are not safe and become ineffective after 10 years. She says her daughter was injured by vaccination:

In the recent mumps outbreak, 100% of the mumps cases were college students, who were ALL 100% vaccinated. 90% (9 out of 10) people who died from last year's flu epidemic had received the flu shot. Herd immunity can only be achieved when 85% of the population is immune to a disease. Vaccines are only good for about 10 years, at absolute max 20 years, so most people over the age of 20 are not immune any longer. So now you have created a situation of a "false" immunity.

Those who get the chicken pox are immune for life, those who get the vax are not. I do believe, maybe to your surprise that vaccines can and have saved lives, however, think about when MD's we're giving out antibiotics like popcorn at the movies, it started having a bad affect on our immune systems and gut. It's probable to think that the same thing might start happen with the overuse of vaccines.

For really deadly diseases, hey I'm all for it, but they started making so much money that you all of a sudden had to start getting vaccines for everything, even the everyday childhood diseases and for stuff like Hep B at 1 day old, really? The rise in autism and other sensory diseases has been mind boggling, as well as childhood autoimmune disorders.

32 people get sick from ecoli and FDA tells everyone to stop buying romaine lettuce, but thousands report issues with vaccines and it's pay no attention to the man behind the curtain. Then everyone is surprised when people get upset and start asking questions.

I'm an Occupational Therapist and was all in with the vax thing, until I watched my daughter lose speech ability directly following a vaccine. I was one telling everyone it was a coincidence until I saw it happen with my own eyes to my own kid. They have NEVER done safety studies in these vaccines have NEVER been studied being given all at once as they do.

It's common sense that all of these vaccines given to a child with a developing immune system and neuro system might have some issues. It's the lying about it that really has everyone worried though. When they say safety studies have been done when no one can find them, then Kennedy offers $$ for anyone who show they have been done. Of course no one could produce them so hence this lawsuit and of course, they haven't. My OBGYN told me the flu shot was studied and proven safe during pregnancy.

So I go to work, as a nurse friend for the flu vax insert and guess what? It clearly stated it had not been studied in children or pregnant woman and if given to pregnant woman you should call and add them to a registry.

Furthermore, on the front of the box, it stated to NOT give to kids under 5! I could keep going, but I'll end with, have you watched the CDC video approving the Hep vax?

If not, you should because it's extremely interesting! First, they give to 1 day old babies and it's never been approved for those under 18. When asked if it was safe to give with other vaccines they said they didn't know but we're making the assumption it was generally safe like other vaccines. Then when asked about the "new" mutated gene thing they said the same thing, "we're making the assumption that's it's safe like other vaccines." They were then asked about the heart and autoimmune markers seen in their internal study and they acknowledged that they saw the markers and were going to monitor it and make determination Dec 2020 whether not there was a problem, and in the mean time it's being given to day old babies. So yes, there are concerns that need to be addressed about the safety of vaccines and I'm thrilled that it's finally being addressed!!!

Vaccines are a hot topic right now, and vaccine hesitancy is growing and quickly gaining momentum. The reality of vaccine hesitancy is no longer a secret, as many studies on the matter have been published. And it is no longer simply among concerned parents. This study published in the journal *EbioMedicine* discusses how practitioners in France are becoming increasingly hesitant to prescribe some controversial vaccines to their patients.

The World Health Organization believes vaccine hesitancy is one of the biggest threats to global health security. Professor Heidi Larson, a Professor of Anthropology and the Risk and Decision Scientist Director at the Vaccine Confidence Project, was one of many academics to speak at the World Health Organization's recent Global Vaccine Safety Summit, where she explained why this is being considered a major problem:

The other thing that's a trend, and an issue, is not just confidence in providers but confidence of health care providers. We have a very wobbly health professional frontline that is starting to question vaccines and the safety of vaccines. That's a huge problem, because to this day any study I've seen—and we're constantly looking on any studies in this space—still, the most trusted person on any study I've seen globally is the health care provider. And if we lose that, we're in trouble.

Dissenting Professionals, Conflicting Statements

This type of hesitancy among health professionals has begun to spawn organizations looking for answers to their questions. 'The Physicians for Informed Consent' is one of multiple examples. It's promising that doctors, scientists and health safety advocates that have come together to share resources about vaccines, and more importantly voice concerns that they have about certain vaccines and their safety.

At the summit, Dr. Martin Howell Friede, Coordinator of Initiative For Vaccine Research at the World Health Organization, brought up the issue of adjuvants, noting some of the problems with using adjuvants that do not have a proven track record of safety. Many people at the conference also emphasized the need for more safety testing and studies to address the concerns that are being made by vaccine safety advocates. Personally, I think this is encouraging. Science should never cease to question, and who wouldn't want more safety studies and testing on medications that are being administered worldwide?

As this issue becomes more scrutinized by an awakening public as well as emboldened health care professionals, more and more conflicting statements made by high-ranking health authorities are being uncovered, which in themselves may lead to a breakdown of confidence in vaccines. For example, Soumya Swaminathan, MD and Chief Scientist at the World Health Organization, stated at the conference,

I don't think we can overemphasize the fact that we really don't have very good safety monitoring systems in many countries and this adds to the miscommunication and the misapprehensions, because we're not able to give clear cut answers when people ask questions about deaths that have occurred due to particular vaccines... One should be able to give a very factual account of what exactly is happening, what the cause of deaths are, but in most cases there's some obfuscation at that level and therefore there's less and less trust then in the system.

Prior to this statement, the WHO released a promotional video just days before the conference began, where Dr. Swaminathan contradicted her statement above, saying “we have vaccine safety systems, robust vaccine safety systems.”

It would be nice to have answers as to why the National Childhood Vaccine Injury Act has paid close to 4 billion dollars to families of vaccine injured children, and what that says about these ‘safety systems’ she is talking about. Clearly, there seems to be a need to make our vaccines safer and more effective. Personally, I believe forced vaccination to be quite unethical given the fact that so many questions remain unanswered.

Association of American Physicians & Surgeons Sue Rep. Adam Schiff

The growing vaccine hesitancy has led the pharmaceutical industry and its supporters to a dangerous strategy: mass censorship. For those of you who haven’t heard, politicians and social media outlets are taking action steps to censor information about vaccines that is not aligned with the industry and its regulatory ‘arm,’ the CDC. In other words, just about anyone who is even questioning vaccine safety, let alone providing evidence that vaccines are not safe, is liable to be discredited, de-monetized, or de-platformed from social media.

Leading the charge is Congressman Adam Schiff, an advocate of vaccine safety and friend of the pharmaceutical industry, who has used his power and influence to immediately strengthen censorship efforts. His moves have been seen as unfair, unethical, and even illegal. In fact, on Jan 15, 2020, the Association of American Physicians and Surgeons, along with Katarina Verrelli, on behalf of herself and others who seek access to vaccine information, filed suit against Adam Schiff in the U.S. District Court for the District of Columbia. Plaintiffs allege that Defendant Schiff has abused government power and infringed on their free-speech rights.

Here’s how the association characterizes the situation:

Who appointed Congressman Adam Schiff as Censor-in-Chief?” asks AAPS General Counsel. “No one did, and he should not be misusing his position to censor speech on the internet.”

In February and March 2019, Rep. Schiff contacted Google, Facebook, and Amazon, to encourage them to de-platform or discredit what Schiff asserted to be inaccurate information on vaccines. He then posted the letters and press release on the House.gov website.

Within 24 hours of Schiff’s letter to Amazon dated Mar 1, 2019, Amazon removed the popular videos Vaxxed and Shoot ‘Em Up: the Truth About Vaccines from its platform for streaming videos, depriving members of the public of convenient access.

Under a policy announced in May 2019, Twitter includes a pro-government disclaimer placed above search results for an AAPS article on vaccine mandates: “Know the Facts. To make sure you get the best information on vaccination, resources are available from the US Department of Health and Human Services.” The implication of this disclaimer is that if information is not on a government website, then it is somehow less credible.

On Facebook, a search for an AAPS article on vaccines, which previously would lead directly to the AAPS article, now produces search results containing links to the World Health Organization (WHO), the National Institutes of Health, and the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC). Visits to the AAPS website have declined significantly since March 2019, both in absolute terms and relative to the decline that would result from a story’s losing its recency.

“The internet is supposed to provide free access to information to people of different opinions,” stated AAPS

Executive Director, Jane Orient, M.D.

Jabbed: How the

Dr. Orient continues, “AAPS is not ‘anti-vaccine,’ but rather supports informed consent, based on an understanding of the full range of medical, legal, and economic considerations relevant to vaccination and any other medical intervention, which inevitably involves risks as well as benefits.”

AAPS argues in the complaint against Rep. Schiff: “The First Amendment protects the rights of free speech and association. Included within the right of free speech is a right to receive information from willing speakers. Under the First Amendment, Americans have the right to hear all sides of every issue and to make their own judgments about those issues without government interference or limitations. Content-based restrictions on speech are presumptively unconstitutional, and courts analyze such restrictions under strict scrutiny.”

The Association of American Physicians and Surgeons \(AAPS\) is a national organization representing physicians in all specialties since 1943.

The Takeaway

The terms “anti vax” and “pro vax” are really not serving in the best interest of the collective. All they do is divide people when in reality, all of us want the same thing, healthy children, and effective and safe medications if we are going to use them. With all of the concerns that are still being made about vaccines, questioning vaccine safety should not be a problem and in fact, should be welcomed by everybody. Forcing mandatory vaccination policy and censoring information on vaccines, in my opinion, seems to be quite tyrannical and immoral at this stage. I may have a different opinion if vaccines were 100 percent safe and effective for everybody, but they're not.

(Natural News) BREAKING: The U.S. news media is currently running about one to two days behind the Chinese media in covering the bombshell revelations surrounding the coronavirus pandemic. Natural News has Chinese-speaking investigators on the ground in Taiwan, and they're scanning the Chinese media for the most important announcements.

Earlier today, the Taiwan media began reporting on a new mainland Chinese study that specifically looked at the individuals involved in this Wuhan coronavirus outbreak. We have a partial translation and link below. According to this news, which is widely circulating in the Taiwan press and is based on a study published in The Lancet, the Wuhan coronavirus fatality rate has leaped to 15%, and the infection rate among those exposed is 83%.

" Hong Kong and Chinese researchers published the latest research on "New Coronavirus 2019" (referred to as "Wuhan pneumonia") in the medical journal "Lancet" on the 24th. Chinese experts pointed directly to the disease. The [fatality] rate is fifteen percent. Hong Kong experts confirmed for the first time that Wuhan pneumonia can be transmitted from person to person, and patients may not have surface symptoms. Taking a Shenzhen seven-person home with six people as an example, the analysis shows that the attack rate is as high as 83% and the incubation period is three to six days It is expected that a large number of cases will break out in China within a week, and the next two weeks will be a crucial period to prevent any place from becoming "another Wuhan".

The Vaccine Cover-up and the Massive Corruption at the Top: This is a Pharmaceutical Driven Agenda

By Gary D. Barnett

January 16, 2020

Facebook Twitter Share / Save

The World Health Organization, (W.H.O.) always suspect, held a global vaccine summit in early December 2019, and some very damning video was leaked and released to the public, and of course, that particular video footage, as observed by Mike Adams here most likely will be banned and removed from YouTube. Why would YouTube remove actual live declarations at a world meeting, unless a cover-up is present? Why would comments from the top members of the W.H.O. at a world conference supposedly about the safety of vaccination be suppressed, unless that factual evidence would harm those who profit from this corrupt vaccine agenda? Why would the media hide this information, unless they had something to gain? The forces at work here are not concerned with safety, but with total vaccine saturation, regardless of the risk.

The hidden part of that meeting concerned many questioning the actual safety of vaccines, or admissions that safety concerns were not only evident, but also widespread. Opening this link at Brighton will allow access to that live video footage.

The long-term use of vaccines, use that has increased to previously unheard of levels, especially in infants and young children, has turned the world population into a vaccine dependent state, which means that more and more vaccines will have to be forthcoming in order to battle every malady of the human condition. With mass vaccination at these levels, the natural human resistance and immunity to disease will fail. Is this a purposely-planned outcome? Is this being done incrementally so as to once again fool the public into total submission of sought after fabricated remedies that vastly increase the wealth and power of those involved in this scheme, while harming the general population?

There are revelations here that are staggering to say the least. They expose many of the lies presented by the W.H.O., the American Medical Association, the very complicit mainstream media and all its shills, and of course the government at most every level, especially the always complicit federal bureaucracies. Some of those include the (CDC) Center for Disease Control, the (FDA) Federal Drug Administration, the (ACCV), Advisory Commission on Childhood Vaccines, the (ACIP) Advisory Committee on Immunization Practices, the (NIH) National Institutes of Health, and the (VICP) National Vaccine Injury Compensation Program, among many others. The lying is system wide, and should be obvious to any paying attention.

It is no longer a secret that the added components to vaccines called adjuvants, including aluminum and mercury in many cases, both very toxic, are an extreme health risk. But the vaccine industry would stall and die without the use of adjuvants. According to Dr. Martin Howell Friede, Coordinator, Initiative for Vaccine Research, W.H.O.:

“Every time that there is an association, be it temporal or not temporal, the first accusation is it is the adjuvant. And yet, without adjuvants, we are not going to have the next generation of vaccines. And many of the vaccines that we do have, ranging from tetanus through to HPV require adjuvants in order for them to work. So the challenge that we have in front of us is: How do we build confidence in this? And the confidence first of all comes from the regulatory agencies (I look to Marion). When we add an adjuvant it's because it is essential. We do not add adjuvants to vaccines because we want to do so. But when we add them, it adds to the complexity. I give courses every year on "How do you develop vaccines?" "How do you make vaccines?" And the first lesson is, while you're making your vaccine, if you can avoid using an adjuvant, please do so. Lesson two is, if you're going to use an adjuvant, use one that has a history of safety. And lesson three is, if you're not going to do that, think very carefully."

He went on to say: "As we add adjuvants, especially some of the more recent adjuvants, such as the ASO1, saponin-derived adjuvants, we do see increased local reactogenicity... The major health concern which we are seeing are accusations of long term, long term effects. (Keep in mind that "reactogenicity" means common, and "expected" adverse reactions, especially excessive immunological responses and associated signs and symptoms.)

After this revelation that was filmed and made available, it should be obvious that those championing vaccination are very aware of the high risk associated with these adjuvants, but their main challenge and goal according to Dr. Friede and others at the W.H.O. is not to find a better way, but to "build confidence" by using the government regulatory agencies. This is telling, and brings no assurance that this body is concerned with safety at all, but seems to indicate that mass vaccination at any human cost is desired. This is a normal result when continuing to reap billions and billions of dollars for the pharmaceutical industry is the true goal.

Also, according to Professor Heidi Larson, PhD, Director of the Vaccine Confidence Project:

"We have a very wobbly health professional front line that is starting to question vaccines and the safety of vaccines. When the front line professionals are starting to question or they don't feel like they have enough confidence about the safety to stand up to it to the person asking them the questions. I mean most medical school curriculums, even nursing curriculums, I mean in medical school you're lucky if you have a half-day on vaccines. Never mind keeping up to date with all this." She also said at the conference: "You can't repurpose the same old science to make it sound better if you don't have the science that's relevant to the new problem. So we need much more investment in safety science."

So apparently, doctors and nurses know little or nothing about vaccines or vaccine safety. And the supposed experts at the World Health Organization admit that much more safety is needed, and in fact they are using old and outdated science as the basis for their false claims that vaccines are perfectly safe for most people.

Many different vaccines are being given to infants at six, ten, and fourteen weeks, and these have many different adjuvants and preservatives coming from many different suppliers, all co-mingled to make these vaccines. No study to my knowledge has ever been done on reactions to these concoctions for adverse reactions or possible cross-reactions. This question was asked by Dr. Bassey Okposen – Program Manager, National Emergency Routine Immunization Coordination Centre (NERICC) Abuja, Nigeria, but was never properly answered at this so-called safety conference.

The bottom line is that no thinking and caring parent should allow these toxic vaccinations without very concentrated scrutiny, and if safety satisfaction is not forthcoming, then more questions are necessary. These people need to be held to the fire, as the agenda of mass vaccination is based on profits for the pharmaceutical industry, and an agenda of mass control of the world population by the governing bodies. This is an atrocity, and the health and welfare of all of us, especially innocent infants and children, deserve much more protection than any agenda driven bureaucracies can or will ever offer. The truth is coming out continually about vaccine deceit. Will anyone listen?

Has "wokeness" ruined everything? That's the question which spurred a podcast by Ash Sarkar, a twenty-something British academic media darling who contributes to The Guardian and The Independent and is featured in this latest post by British YouTuber, Sargon of Akkad.

First, Sarkar asks, "What is woke culture?" pretending exasperation and ignorance. Later in the interview, she opines:

"Woke is accepting that LGBT identities are valid and should be protected under the law; that woke culture is an acknowledge-ment that racialized outcomes, reproduced through institutions in society and people of color measurably are treated differently... what I want, at an interpersonal level is understanding, empathy and solidarity and at a political level, I want the pursuit of redistributive goals, whether that's power, whether that's wealth, whether that's land, in order to pursue aims of social justice, along class, gender and race lines."

Sargon of Akkad agrees. "This is actually an excellent definition of woke culture, because it shows us that we are dealing with a radical movement, that violates some of the fundamental values of modern, Liberal Britain. Primarily, that we do not think of arbitrary characteristics, like race, gender and anything else should be factors that contribute to outcomes, wherever possible and that we believe that a person's private property should, in fact be protected by the state, using the law and not taken away from a person by the state, instead.

"Appropriating people's wealth and land, then re-distributing it along race, gender and class lines seems like an aberrant violation of those values and would naturally be seen as unethical by someone who is not a part of woke culture and follows the traditional values of modern Britain."

Like Saikat Chakrabarti, AOC's race-baiting svengali and former chief-of-staff, who's done so much to inject a new brand of hysterical, racial divisiveness into the American political process, Sarkar is also the child of Bangladeshi immigrants. Both project ancestral traumas onto the West while strategically weaponizing White Guilt to advance their goal of Global Communism.

Neither complains about Bangladesh, where Islam is the state religion and homosexuality is still punishable by life imprisonment; where the Islamization of that country was defined by overthrowing the Varna caste system, the most skin color-obsessed means of social control ever devised, lasting millennia and still going strong throughout South Asia – now replaced with its Muslim version of "Ashrafs" who claim superior status derived from Persian, Turkic and Arab ancestry or alleged descent from Muhammad.

They don't complain about Bangladesh because it doesn't have the capital that they want to see "redistributed" along identitarian lines.

This, while they subscribe to "Luxury Communism". Sarkar's boss, Aaron Bastani wrote a manifesto about it. Luxury Communism is technocratic utopianism that's about "fully embracing automation" and how technology will reduce the value of commodities – food, healthcare and housing – towards zero and how synthetic biology will prolong life and virtually eliminate disease.

Such things may indeed come to pass – but it sure as Hell won't be because of a Global Communism!

These people are young and so steeped in ideology that they don't see how Big Tech, influenced by Marxist and Postmodernist thought has already created a monopolistic combine of censorship, surveillance, social engineering, resulting in our current stealth digital totalitarianism with a corporatist, "social justice" veneer.

The unprecedented collaboration between Big Tech, with the mass media and the intelligence agencies to saturate the infosphere with their chosen narrative and to ban all others is decidedly not taking us to the "world of liberty, luxury and happiness", of which the wokesters dream.

Coronavirus emergency updates: Fatality rate explodes, transmission skyrockets, confirmed in California

Emergency updates regarding the coronavirus outbreak that's now rapidly accelerating:

The Lancet science journal just published a bombshell study revealing coronavirus has hit a 15 percent fatality rate and a jaw-dropping 83 percent infection rate among those exposed.

These numbers will cause epidemiologists to panic. It also means if this infection is not immediately brought under control, it's going to go global and easily kill hundreds of millions of people if these numbers hold true. Let's hope they're wrong...

See the breaking news from The Lancet here.

Exclusive to Natural News: We now have confirmation from our investigators on the ground in Taiwan that hundreds of thousands fled Wuhan before the quarantine was carried out on railways and airports. This means potentially thousands of coronavirus carriers got out and spread the pandemic to others.

See the full details here.

Coronavirus is now confirmed in California and Seattle.

See the full story here.

And if you haven't seen this yet, a computer simulation funded in part by the Bill Gates organization found that 65 million people would die in a global pandemic. However, that simulation used far lower estimates of fatalities and transmission of the virus.

Based on current numbers from The Lancet (see link above), if this virus is not contained, it will likely kill hundreds of millions globally, mostly concentrated in warmer, more humid regions that are closer to the equator.

Confession #1: I took money from sick people

Hi, I'm Dr. Lundell MD and you're about to be let in on some of my biggest confessions! As an award winning heart surgeon, they aren't something I'm proud of. But, they are helping a lot of us make our health comeback...and that's what's important!

My first confession goes back 20 years. My patients had better arteries, thanks to emergency medicine, but they weren't getting healthier. In time, I realized we were just constantly taking money from sick people...and at times, we joked about it.

The high pressure environment of the cardiac operating room often leads to dark humor. Most jokes aren't worth repeating. But the one that got the most laughs, sadly, implied that we were good for nothing but taking money from sick people.

"What are you doing today?"

"Taking more money from sick people"!

We said we were in health care but, but really it was sick care. We prescribed medicines that failed...yet we kept doing it.

Of course, at the time, it was funny...but eventually I wanted to do something about it.

As a heart surgeon, nothing is more important to me than saving a patient. It was my highest honor to carry the responsibility of another person's life on my shoulders, and I was damn good at it.

In my everyday life, I might not have been the best communicator or always there as a father due to my work schedule. But as a surgeon, I was very skilled at operating successfully on the hearts of my patients. Keeping my patients alive was my life goal.

Unfortunately, I didn't know or care about what caused atherosclerosis (heart disease). I just knew that when the blockages reached a critical point and threatened life or limb, I got paid to fix it.

As Mark Twain said "to a man with a hammer, everything looks like a nail"

This is called The Law of the Instrument. It states "the natural human tendency is to be over dependent on their narrow skill set and resources."

That was me, you have blockages. I fix blockages.

Most of the time my patients survived and got better with improved quantity and quality of life. Nothing really wrong with that. I was making a great living, working hard, rising a family and trying to have a little fun along the way. As a trailblazer in heart surgery I knew there was an even better way to do open heart surgery.

Saving my patients with Beating Heart Surgery (BSH)

Peter Drucker, the great management guru, said "if you can't measure it, you can't improve it." Coronary bypass surgery was the most measured procedure in history because the endpoints were hard; death, stroke, or mental problems from the heart-lung machine. That made my job easier and I improved on it.

The Society of Thoracic Surgeons, of which I was a member, developed a reporting system to measure risks, complications and results. The mortality rate in the hospital nationwide was about 2.5% and the stroke rate was about 5%. Even worse, 70% of my patients had cognitive impairment, often called, "pump head" or "bubble brain."

To me this was not acceptable, we had to do better. The strokes and cognitive impairment were a consequence of using the heart-lung machine.

I asked, can we do coronary bypass without the heart-lung machine? If we could, then we would avoid the complications that were so devastating to the patients. It was so disheartening for me to have a patient with their heart fixed and their brain-damaged. If we could do it better I was ready.

I took a clue from the sewing machine. Does anyone even remember how they work? The fabric is held stationary, while the needle and thread pass through. Then, the fabric is advanced and held still for the next stitch.

Well, A few of us surgeons and our industry partners began to experiment with ways to stabilize the area where we were sewing the bypass into the coronary artery, while letting the heart beat normally.

We wanted it to work just like a sewing machine, making it safer and more reliable!

It didn't take long before we had devices available that allowed us to stabilize all areas on the heart, and successfully accomplish the bypass graft without the heart-lung machine! This became known as "off pump" coronary bypass or beating heart surgery.

My surgical partner and I did 1000 consecutive coronary bypass patients with zero strokes or cognitive impairment. How gratifying to have prevented 50 or 60 strokes and 700 cases of bubble brain, right?

Surgeons from around the world came to our operating room to watch and learn this advanced technique. But not every surgeon had the skills to accomplish beating heart surgery because it was a bit more difficult.

At our two hospitals. My partner and I were the only ones doing beating heart surgery. This made me a maverick and opened me up to scrutiny and criticism, jealousy. But our results were so great we didn't care, hoping the better results would speak for themselves.

One day, I looked at my hammer, coronary bypass surgery, and realized maybe it was still not working as well as I thought. A number of my patients had to come back a few years later!

If I could make heart surgery better, could I make the treatment and prevention better?

Sure, I was saving lives, but I really was not curing heart disease!

My technique had improved but the prevention did not.

Then everyone started blaming cholesterol! Big Pharma insisted that if everyone lowered their cholesterol, that the heart attacks would stop.

Enter the statin drugs, like Lipitor and the low fat diets.

With the new drugs, cholesterol levels could be measured and lowered. But was this really an improvement?

In spite of these measures the number of people with heart disease continued to skyrocket! My patients kept coming back sick, with low cholesterol!

As I looked at the research, it didn't all make sense because cholesterol is a critical substance we need in almost every cell to survive, how could this harm us?

Fact is, high cholesterol is not a risk.

In a study of over 130,000 patients admitted to hospital with a heart attack, 70% had normal cholesterol levels. My patients who came back for repeat heart surgery also had normal cholesterol levels.

This made me seriously question the official religion of medicine and the low fat fad...eventually, I exited mainstream medicine!

Cardiology was like the man with a hammer pounding away to lower cholesterol levels. The mantra from the statin industry was "lower is better".

My wisest surgical mentor said the worst thing that can happen to a patient is a diagnosis, puzzled, I asked why? His response was that when a diagnosis is made everyone stops thinking about what is really wrong with the patient. And that's where we are today. Despite the rising deaths from heart disease, nobody is questioning the deadly statins!

I had observed, many times my operating room, redness and swelling around the plaque area in the coronary artery. Redness and swelling are two of the four cardinal signs of inflammation...and cholesterol lowering meds just made that fiery redness worse!

Stay tuned for Confession #2 to learn how to get off cholesterol-lowering drugs and remedy red-hot inflammation that attacks from the inside!

As a heart surgeon and Ironman, I banned myself from ever using meds. To that end, I used my chemistry background (my major in college) and vast experience as a doctor to discover the most potent natural medicine - medicine that attacks the achilles tendon of poor health: high blood sugar!

My Sugar Solutions is the product of that work. Designed to repair the multifarious damage caused by sugar, this natural method of healing is more effective than any of my cardiovascular surgical tools!

My Sugar Solutions is a botanical based blend that will rival any medication and something I dedicated my life's work to getting out in the public! It has no medication interactions and is free of side effects.

From reversing diabetes, to controlling blood pressure and stripping away excess fat, My Sugar Solutions is a risk free way of staying out of the operating room and off meds! At the same time, it also increases energy and athletic performance at any age. And you get to work with me personally for 6 months of support to ensure that you make your health comeback!

But before I introduce it, there's more I'd like to share...more confessions.

Stay Tuned.

Dr. Lundell, MD
