12/16/2022 / By Ethan Huff

In an appearance on Fox News’ “The Ingraham Angle,” Florida Gov. Ron DeSantis warned that one of the goals of mass-jabbing the planet for covid is to “depopulate” it.

In seeking accountability for criminal vaccine manufacturers and government officials who pushed their shots, DeSantis suggested that “globalist elites” concocted these abominations as part of a worldwide genocide effort.

“You take an mRNA shot and the way to view it is, okay, what are the benefits?” DeSantis told host Laura Ingraham. “And what are the drawbacks? And it seems like our medical establishment never wanted to be honest with people about the potential drawbacks.”

“And so, you showed a clip from Dr. Ladapo down here in Florida, and the analysis that he’s done with people, particularly young men who’ve taken the mRNA shots.” (Related: Back in March, DeSantis warned that children should not get jabbed for covid.)

Other countries have already pulled these injections from the market due to what has been uncovered, but here in the United States they are not only still available but also being pushed by the establishment.

It is clear, DeSantis further explained, that the “drawbacks outweigh the benefits.” This is based on analyses from independent researchers, many of them located outside the United States, who took the time to investigate these poisons.

“Look, at the end of the day, what we’re looking for is to provide truth, to provide accurate data and provide accurate analysis,” DeSantis said.

“And we had a great researcher from Denmark. Laura, Denmark does not allow people under 50, unless they have pre-existing conditions, to get the mRNA shots, because they’ve analyzed it, and said that the drawbacks outweigh the benefits.”

Florida creating state panel similar to CDC that will perform “evidence-based medicine”

While some researchers claim that getting jabbed does, in some cases, reduce the risk of death, many others show the opposite. Not only that, but almost every honest analysis reveals that getting injected for the Chinese Flu increases the risk of other types of mortality.

DeSantis pointed out that, contrary to industry and government claims, excess mortality has not gone down since the launch of Operation Warp Speed. To the contrary, there have been many more deaths than usual all across the board ever since the shots were introduced.

“And so, we have now a panel that we’ve created in Florida, that is effectively going to function the way a CDC should function, and basically do evidence-based medicine, take study seriously that counteract the narrative and be willing to ask questions and go where the data leads,” DeSantis added.

From the beginning, DeSantis went on to state, Florida has led the way in fighting the federal government’s jab mandates. Even though Florida did impose many of the same restrictions as the rest of the country early on, DeSantis claims to have fought against compulsory injection when others were not.

“The authoritarians were the ones that wanted to mandate the vax on people; I protected people from having that happen and made sure Floridians could make their own choice,” he said about his position.

“The authoritarians wanted to institute a vaccine passport system, almost like a social credit system. So that people who dissented from this would be marginalized from society entirely. We rejected that. And we banned it. So, we were from the very beginning, helping people make their own decisions, but not using either the coercive power of the state or allowing big corporations to condition those choices.”

Bill Gates planning on “catastrophic contagion” capable of killing young adults and children

12/15/2022 / By Ethan Huff

On Oct. 23, 2022, unbeknownst to many, billionaire eugenicist Bill Gates held another pandemic exercise called “Catastrophic Contagion” announcing future plans for another deadly disease that specifically targets young people and children.

In partnership with the World Health Organization (WHO) and the Johns Hopkins Center for Health Security, the Bill & Melinda Gates Foundation held the “pandemic tabletop exercise” at the Grand Challenges Annual Meeting in Brussels.

Similar to his infamous Event 201 pandemic exercise, which announced the Wuhan coronavirus (Covid-19) scandemic before it happened, the Catastrophic Contagion event centered around “a pandemic with a higher fatality rate than COVID-19 ... disproportionately affecting children and young people.”

Ten current and former “health ministers” and “senior public health officials” from Senegal, Rwanda, Nigeria, Angola, Liberia, Singapore, India, and Germany participated in the event alongside Gates. (Related: A U.S. patent shows that Gates was directly involved in the creation of covid, as was the WHO and DARPA.)

We are told that each of these participants was presented with the potential scenario and asked how they would respond in terms of making “urgent policy decisions with limited information in the face of uncertainty.”

“Each problem and choice had serious health, economic, and social ramifications,” a document about the event states.

Gates wants more “laws and procedures” to put an end to freedom during the next plandemic

Gates has repeatedly talked about “lessons learned” from the covid plandemic, the suggestion being that next time – and there really does appear to be a next time already in the works – globalist leaders will have the opportunity to execute tyranny with more precision.

For instance, too much “misinformation” spread during covid that led large numbers of people to say no to masks, social distancing, and the “vaccines.” This hampered the plans of the globalists who intended for everyone to obey without question.

The plan next time is to clamp down heavily on the flow of free speech to prevent all dissent and skepticism. Gates wants government officials to really crack down on all freedom during the next go-around to ensure that his depopulation goals are achieved.

“Countries should prioritize efforts to increase trust in government and public health; improve public health communication efforts; increase the resiliency of populations to misleading information; and reduce the spread of harmful misinformation,” the exercise documents explain.

“In future pandemics, we should continue to expect even more major disruptions from misinformation and disinformation.”

The WHO, it further states, should continue to be propped up as “a globally trusted source” for all information, which it should distribute “widely” around the world. This alone, however, will not be enough to stop the spread of “misinformation.”

“Countries need to collaborate to anticipate that threat and prepare to combat it with their own laws and procedures,” the documents further state.

“Just as many types of economic and societal harms can be anticipated and accounted for in pandemic preparedness plans, so too can predictable false or misleading health messaging. Concertedly exploring ways to address this phenomenon on a national level in advance of the next pandemic will be crucial to saving lives.”

In order for the next pandemic to work, in other words, the skeptics must be silenced. There cannot be any dissent allowed to proliferate. All messaging and information must be totally controlled by the globalists, otherwise it will fizzle out in the end.

“This is his bugbear / scare story to facilitate and create a global biosecurity state,” wrote a commenter about how Gates “dominates the WHO,” which is right now seeming to create “a binding, trans-national agreement to require actual sovereign nation states to surrender power to it” with the infamous Pandemic Treaty.

Illegal aliens are now “climate migrants,” according to globalists pushing population replacement scheme

11/14/2022 / By Ethan Huff

The globalists are hellbent upon transforming the United States and Europe into brown and black countries. And they have figured out a way to do so under the guise of fighting “climate change.”

Instead of calling them “illegal aliens” or even just “migrants,” the globalists are now going with the term “climate migrants.” The implication here is that these people are having to flee their native lands to invade the U.S. and Europe because of “global warming.”

The World Economic Forum (WEF), along with WEF-tied journalist Gaia Vance and others like her, are all pushing the climate migrant narrative in a desperate attempt to ensure the U.S. and Europe are transformed into non-white “melting pots” before their citizens figure out the scheme and resist.

The clock is ticking, especially now that we are reaching the pinnacle of the information age. The globalist façade of transformational benevolence is quickly losing its luster, so now they are resorting to even more climate rhetoric. (Related: Remember when Germany banned Europeans from entering the country during the covid scamdemic while at the same time welcoming “migrants” with open arms?)

Resist the globalist agenda at all costs

Earlier this year, the WEF announced that the plan is to usher another 200 million “climate refugees” into the West by the year 2050. If this is not achieved, this will create a “risk to global stability,” the globalist entity threatened.

The World Bank, another globalist-controlled entity, threw out a similar but slightly higher number of 216 million climate migrants, including 86 million just from sub-Saharan Africa, that will need to flood the West by mid-century in order to keep the globalist plot on schedule.

In a report entitled “Global Risks Report 2022,” the WEF further demands that westerners not only welcome all these climate migrants with open arms, but also allow them to enter and occupy their “homes, communities, and jobs.”

If you want to know why everything is becoming prohibitively expensive, including basics like food and housing, look no further than this flood of illegals into the country. These people are consuming scarce and precious resources while actual citizens suffer.

This is what the globalists want, after all. Whites must suffer and give up everything so non-whites can replace them, allowing the powers that be full reign over the planet.

One of the biggest things standing in their way are the growing populist and nationalist movements. Even if it was just words, this is the message that President Donald Trump conveyed to the nation with his “America First” agenda.

The WEF report addresses this, and you can clearly see from the following that the globalists are fearful that We the People will wake up and resist our collective genocide at their devious hands:

“Disillusionment with globalization has fuelled nativist discourses and national interest policies in many destination countries in recent years, ... Many governments, reflecting popular attitudes, have expressed concern about pressures on education and healthcare services, housing capacity and local employment; for others, integration concerns have been a priority.”

There are attempts being made to convince Western citizens that this large-scale invasion of ‘climate migrants’ is somehow good for their countries. The WEF report claims that economic migration “often has considerable benefits for both origin and destination countries.”

This is a lie, of course, as the only people who benefit from such policies are the globalists. Everyone else suffers under the crushing economic pressure of hordes of illegals swarming and occupying once-thriving communities that have been devastated by many decades of globalist meddling.

Globalists building “Technological Noah’s Ark” to save themselves from mass extinction event

09/20/2022 / By Mary Villareal

The vast majority of the world will perish, but the globalist elites are set to escape the Great Reset via a “technological Noah’s Ark.”

Yuval Noah Harari, author and lead advisor to Klaus Schwab and the World Economic Forum (WEF), noted during a discussion at the Warwick Economics Summit that the vast majority of the world will perish while the elites will survive a global mass extinction event.

Harari said the elites will be able to shield themselves from planetary catastrophes. He added that climate change is “the most pressing threat facing humanity.”

According to the WEF advisor, technology is key in this issue as it is the one that created the problem in the first place. Technology is also a key to the solution, but not the solution in itself because every technology can be used for good or for ill.

He also said people need to work on the technological aspects, but need politicians to direct it in the right way for the benefit of the greatest number of people and of the entire ecosystem.

“One of the biggest dangers in technological utopianism — [the belief] that, ‘Oh, the technology will solve it’ — is a kind of Noah’s ark syndrome, like in the Bible with the flood, that yes, eventually they built an ark, but just for five people or something like that. Almost everybody drowned.”

In 2018, Harari also wrote about the “useless class,” where liberal democracy’s philosophical appeal has gained strength due to practical advantages. Liberalism in politics and economics has allowed democracies to outcompete other states and deliver rising affluence to their people.

While he said economic growth may not solve social problems that are now being created by technological disruption, growth is still increasingly predicated on the invention of more and more disruptive technologies. (Related: Putin declares victory over New World Order: ‘Change of elites’ coming because humanity has ‘woken up.’)

With automation, old jobs would disappear and people will eventually not be able to cope, creating what he called a useless class – a class that elites deem unnecessary in their Great Reset agenda.

Harari: Humanity will be divided into two

Harari further explained that there is a very big danger when people talk about what the future will be like with climate change.

He claimed that humanity will be divided into two: a majority of people who would suffer and a minority led by globalist elites who have the resources, wealth and technology to protect themselves and even flourish in a kind of “technological Noah’s Ark.”

CNN host Bill Weir, who hosted the discussion, followed up by suggesting the Wuhan coronavirus (COVID-19) pandemic as a “dress rehearsal” for the climate crisis.

“I keep coming back to the idea that the COVID pandemic is really a dress rehearsal — on a much smaller level — for the climate crisis,” Weir said, adding that it is also a reminder of how communities have trust and faith in science and each other.

He also said corporate control in the form of “benevolent capitalism” may yield planet-saving protocols: “Those who wait for those citizens to start dying, suffer the most. But at the same time, we’re still so divided globally within countries about these sorts of things, and there’s a lot of hope that if governments can’t pull it together, then maybe it’ll be corporations, like benevolent capitalism.”

(Natural News) An associate professor of psychology has revealed disturbing children's drawings from Covid lockdowns which show themes of death, loss, loneliness and restriction.

(Article by Katherine Lawton republished from DailyMail.co.uk)

In a study by Dr Richard Jolley and co-researchers Dr Sarah Rose, Dr Romina Vivaldi and Dr Claire Barlow, of Staffordshire University, 68 children between four and 14 were asked to reflect on their Covid experience and draw how it was making them think and feel.

One child drew a distressed figure with all four limbs strapped down to what looks like a hospital bed and wrote 'constricted'.

Another drew a personified Covid cell next to an upset image of themselves and captioned it: 'I think Covid is happy and he has stol my smile.'

In a study by associate professor Dr Richard Jolley and colleagues, 68 children were asked to reflect on their experience during the Covid lockdowns through a drawing. One child drew a distressed figure with all four limbs strapped down to a bed and wrote 'constricted'

Another child drew a personified Covid cell next to an upset image of themselves and captioned it: 'I think Covid is happy and he has stol my smile'

27 of the 68 children showed the theme of prohibited behaviour in their art while 35 drew a person on their own.

Meanwhile, other common themes included furniture and buildings while seven children presented death and loss in their work.

Dr Jolley, who carried out the study with his colleagues, told MailOnline: 'It really showed they knew what was happening.

'Unsurprisingly, they did communicate what we all were thinking about, in terms of our feelings and the separation [from] people, and what we weren't able to do [but also] what we were able to do.

'I think these drawings really reflected their own lives and what they thought they were facing and what they knew.'

This table shows the recurring themes which appeared when children were asked to draw their experiences during Covid lockdowns. The most common themes were ‘Feelings and emotions’ and ‘Person on their own’

He added: ‘Particularly with schools closing, for I think three different time periods, and of course the social restrictions of not being able to see friends outside their household, there is clearly going to be a significant impact upon them emotionally [and] mentally.’

The study highlighted that impacts of the lockdowns on children included increased loneliness, reduced physical activity and decreased mental wellbeing.

Dr Jolley said it was important to provide children with a means of expressing themselves without having to make sense of things through language.

‘We really wanted to hear the children’s voice. Why did we want to hear it through pictures? Well, particularly for younger children, being able to draw what they feel out rather than try to verbalise it. Bear in mind we couldn’t see the children face to face so it had to be done at a distance,’ he said.

This child drew lonely silhouettes looking out of windows and personified germs surrounding a house

Dr Jolley said: 'I think these drawings really reflected their own lives and what they thought they were facing and what they knew'

'That drawing then presents them an opportunity, and even for the older children there is the saying that a picture can say a thousand words. There is a long history in children's drawings...and children do communicate and express their feelings as well as their thoughts.'

Dr Jolley added: 'This event for children really touched their feelings.'

'They were prohibited, they were restricted – that's coming through.'

'The premise of the project was that this was an unprecedented event and a very long...period for children, and we hadn't really had anything like it before.'

“Vaccinating” the food supply is how Bill Gates and other globalists plan to force-jab even the unvaccinated

Monday, January 09, 2023 by: Ethan Huff

(Natural News) According to billionaire eugenicist Bill Gates, animals that humans eat have inadequate genetics. And the only way to “fix” those genetics is to “vaccinate” said animals with new mRNA (messenger RNA) “vaccines.”

Watch below as Gates explains his desires for the animal kingdom:

Unless all animals, including food animals, are jabbed with Big Pharma’s latest poisons, the food supply will remain “dirty,” in Gates’ view. Only he and his globalist minions can “sanitize” it with new chemicals and DNA modification techniques – which they are also trying to do to humans.

“The Gates Foundation is partnered with DFID on a great number of things, and among those are work we do together on livestock,” Gates stated, referring to the United Kingdom-based Department for International Development.

“Helping animals survive, either by having vaccines or better genetics, helping them be more productive – it’s making a big difference.” (Related: Bill Gates lives to vaccinate.)

Covid-jabbed animal foods to hit the market this year, compliments of Bill Gates

As he usually does, Gates started all this by experimenting on the third world. Since Gates views poor people as having less value than himself, they get to be the guinea pigs for all of his newfangled endeavors to change the entire world into his own image.

“I was down in Ethiopia seeing how chickens are out there laying more eggs, getting more nutrition, and even some small savings into the household,” Gates bragged.

The question remains, though: are those eggs actually safe? Or do they contain the very same mRNA modifications that occur in humans after getting injected for “covid?”

It turns out that the plan is to administer covid jabs to domestic livestock in the coming year, compliments of Gates and his cronies. What will these injections do to the food that is produced and sold to the masses?

“We will soon be eating DNA altered, sickened animals from the same mRNA jabs contributing to the ‘Died Suddenly’ pandemic,” warned a Twitter account called “DJ Freedom Rocket.”
“What could possibly go wrong ...”

Another account responded to this that, apparently, we already are eating “fully vaccinated” animal products, not to mention all the genetically modified (GMO) plant products that have been on the market and in the food supply for decades.

“Are you aware of reports that Pharma now is looking to inject mRNA into foods?” this same account asked. “Into fruits and veggies? Into animal feed? Into fake vaccines for farm animals. Malthusians intend to poison our food supply.”

All of this has been many years in the making. Thirteen years ago, Gates met with other globalists like Warren Buffett, George Soros, Michael Bloomberg, Ted Turner, Oprah Winfrey, to conjure up a coordinated response to the “problem” of population growth, which all of these figures see as a threat to the “human race” – meaning themselves and their ill-gotten wealth and lavish lifestyles, which were built on the backs of the very people they are now attempting to exterminate.

“In the view of the world’s billionaires, religious and political ‘obstacles’ remain that might get in the way of their mass experimentation,” explains Jacob Bruns, writing for Headline USA.

In the comments, someone added that people like Gates are clearly insane and no longer have any shame whatsoever about openly broadcasting their true intentions for the planet right in plain sight.

“They’re like cartoon villains at this point,” wrote another. “Except that they’re real.”

Covid tyranny is about money and keeping the corrupt global financial system intact – not public health

Tuesday, January 10, 2023 by: Ethan Huff

Tags: Collapse, conspiracy, COVID, deep state, finance, Financial, fraud, globalist, globalist agenda, health, markets, money, money supply, planned pandemic, scam

(Natural News) It remains a widely held misbelief that covid is a real infective virus that magically came out of nowhere in late 2019, plunging the world into an unexpected chaos of lockdowns, mask and “vaccine” mandates, and ongoing economic collapse. The truth, it turns out, is that covid is a fake cover event for an engineered rescue mission of the corrupt global financial system and the “elite” who benefit from it at everyone else’s expense.

Finance is a complicated matter, no doubt – and this is all by design. Everyday people are kept in the dark about what is really going on due to the convoluted nature of concepts like fiat, debt, derivatives, fractional-reserve banking, and the many other elements of modern finance.

The advent of covid, however, brought to light the ugly truth about the global financial order and what it does to the common man. The entire system is an unsustainable farce and Ponzi scheme, and every time it gets close to collapsing in on itself, the “elite” pull a stunt, i.e., war or a “pandemic,” to save themselves from going down with the sinking ship.

“The Covid-19 Pandemic story makes little sense when viewed through the lens of health, safety and science,” writes Michael Bryant in an excellent piece for Off Guardian. “Viewed through the lens of money, power, control, and wealth transfer, however, then all of it makes perfect sense.”

“The lockdowns, mandatory muzzles, anti-social distancing and the plethora of additional measures did nothing to protect or improve public health — they were never designed to do so.”

Without covid, the global debt house of cards would have already collapsed

So, what was it all for? In Bryant’s view, covid pulled the pin on the global economic grenade, effectively destroying small businesses while breaking people’s minds and the social fabric in which they live. As announced by the Biden regime following the Trump regime’s launch of “Operation Warp Speed,” this all aligns with the agenda of “Build Back Better” (or 6uild 6ack 6etter).

“The desired result is a billionaire’s utopia, in which they will own and control the planet in the form of a techno-feudal fiefdom where digitally branded humanity is regulated like cattle in a super-surveilled technocracy,” Bryant writes.

“What this manufactured crisis conveniently camouflages is that we are in the midst of a planned total economic collapse – a collapse which was inevitable.”

Had covid not been launched as a global false flag event in the Fall of 2019, the global debt house of cards would have fallen back then. The entire system would have collapsed right then and there, reducing the corrupt billionaires to poverty status where they truly belong – but covid stopped that from happening.

The endgame with all these financial shenanigans is still a global financial collapse. But before that happens, the money changers first had to get all their ducks in the row before having their central banks, including the Federal Reserve, buy up all the toxic, worthless debt from hedge funds and banks.

“Put simply, Covid-19 was not a widespread medical emergency, it was a money laundering scheme, a massive psychological operation and a smoke screen for a complete overhaul and restructuring of the current social and economic world order,” Bryant warns.

“Covid-19, the disease, is nothing more than a disease of ATTRIBUTION.

Covid-19, the media event, was the Trojan Horse constructed to usher in a complete transformation of our society.

Covid-19™, the operation, was never an epidemiological event; it is a business model meant to increase the portfolios of the super-wealthy.

There is no such thing as ‘Covid 19’ except as a criminal conspiracy.”
